

PRIYANKA KUMAR

She defines herself as someone who helps people achieve what they want.

Making people open-up and connect with their inner truths came naturally to Priyanka. Following her passion, she studied Psychology (LSR, Delhi University) and then psychological counseling. Next, training herself to become an NLP & Life Coach and a learning and development facilitator came naturally.

Priyanka believes that inherently we all have the resources within, exploring which can lead us to be the persons we deserve to be! A coach is the mirror that shows us that truth. She has worked with corporate professionals, businessmen, students, housewives, sportsmen, the young and the not so young. She connects with them as people, minus all tags.

Priyanka's passion lies in coaching, and she is certified as an NLP & Life Coach (Neoway Academy, Bangalore). She is also certified as an NLP Trainer (to train others in NLP) and a Master Practitioner in Neuro Linguistic Programming from the National Federation of NLP, USA (trained at Neoway). She is also certified as a trainer by International Finance Corporation (IFC) – branch of World Bank – for adult training. She is also a certified Law of Attraction trainer.

An accomplished facilitator with more than 4,000 hrs of delivery, her training experience spans a variety of industries and verticals. She has worked at all stages of training, be it needs analysis, designing the module or facilitation. An expert in conducting transformational workshops in a host of areas including Leadership, Managing Change, Team Building, Behavioral Change etc, she has also conducted Personality Development Programs for college students.

She has worked with clients like Matrix, IDBI Bank, Jindal Steel and Power Limited, Punj Llyod, Tata Tea, Pony Needles, Perfetti Van Melle, JBM, Shapoorji Pallonji, ZTE, HCL Technologies, Thapar Engineering College, SCMS Kochi etc to name a few...

She has co-founded WINGS Team – a company that is more an emotion, for both partners. Priyanka has also been an entrepreneur through her life. With over 14 years of combined experience in heading Start-Up Organizations, Business Development, Client-Servicing, Resourcing, Learning & Development and Instructional functions in various sectors, her heart remains in helping people achieve their potential.

As an army brat, and now wife, she inherently is disciplined about her work, and this focus has helped her through her professional career. Having spent her years living in different stations - nationally and internationally, she has developed the skill of being able to relate to people, across cultures, very easily.

Currently, she is working on another dream project – 'Ab Tak 200' – to have a 200 forces' wives be involved in the content development project that WINGS has undertaken, to help ladies live their full potential without feeling geographically challenged. And another project that keeps her going is 'The Magic of One' – her channel - honoring the impact of one – one decision, one belief, one experience, one smile or one minute – on our lives. Her channel is currently focusing on one-minute meditations – to create that magical meditative pause, just any time in the day.
